“Each person is a member of society, and we are all called to further the development of human society as a whole.”
Paraphrase from pope Paul VI, Populorum Progressio, 1967, #17