IMPORTANT – STUDENT WELLBEING

At Caritas Australia, we believe that all people should be treated with respect and dignity. Everyone has the right to feel safe, especially children and vulnerable adults. Please consider your audience when selecting which stories and activities to share with your class.

Our Safeguarding animation recognises that learning about challenges to the health, wellbeing and safety of others and our earth can be hard. It encourages young people to talk to their teacher or trusted adult if they're feeling worried or upset about anything they have learnt through our resources or activities. The animation also acknowledges Caritas Australia's commitment for children and vulnerable adults to feel valued and heard by encouraging them to share their great ideas with us.

PROJECT COMPASSION AND THE YEAR OF JUBILEE

Let's all Unite Against Poverty! There is no time like 2025!

This year is an exciting time in the life of the Catholic Church. A Jubilee year only comes around once every quarter of a century, and it brings with it a special invitation for each one of us. That invitation is close to the heart of Caritas Australia's Project Compassion. The theme of Jubilee 2025 is Pilgrims of Hope. It is hope which calls us to come together and Unite Against Poverty.

The word 'Jubilee' comes from the Hebrew word for a ram's horn, which was blown to announce the start of a Jubilee year in the Bible. The idea of a jubilee goes right back to biblical times and is closely linked to our call to a faith that does justice. It stems from the idea of a Sabbath. Once a week, from the beginning of our relationship with God, we stopped work to rest. Every seven years, at least part of the land was allowed to rest and recover, something that modern science happens to appreciate as part of caring for Earth. During a Jubilee year, debts were cancelled, people could rest, and because crops weren't planted, even the land was able to rest. It was seen as a fresh start.

It was also a time of freedom: prisoners and slaves were freed, and land was given to those who didn't have any. It was known as the year of the Lord's favour.

In Chapter 4 of Luke's Gospel, when Jesus returns to his hometown, he announces the 'year of the Lord's favor.' This is the meaning of jubilee: 'he has sent me to bring good news to the poor and freedom for those in captivity'.

During Lent, we are called to be good news for the poor. Project Compassion is a wonderful way to do this. This year, we share 3 challenging yet inspiring stories. We meet Toefuata'iga in Samoa, Lam from rural Vietnam, and Irene from the Democratic Republic of the Congo. We encourage students to discover the power of giving and the impact that their contribution, however big or small, can have in the lives of others.

Let us come together once again in this Year of Jubilee as pilgrims of hope and Unite Against Poverty this Lent!

Introducing Project Compassion

Introduce Caritas Australia's Project Compassion appeal using the following resources:

Project Compassion Pilgrimage Experience

This resource has been designed to lead students in a pilgrimage experience to align with the Year of Jubilee theme, Pilgrims of Hope. Traditionally a pilgrimage requires the person to travel to their allocated faith destination. This pilgrimage experience is different in that students will travel to Samoa, Vietnam and the Democratic Republic of the Congo without leaving the classroom.

In designing the Project Compassion Pilgrimage Experience, we have taken key pilgrim components into consideration and have designed an experience where students can Unite Against Poverty through Project Compassion; engaging with the Project Compassion stories, Church teachings, the Pilgrims of Hope theme for the Year of Jubilee and links to Lent – Fasting, Almsgiving and Prayer.

The resource has been broken into three sections:

Pre-Pilgrimage

Before students head off on their pilgrimage, they will take time to learn about the Year of Jubilee as a class. They will explore its significance for Catholics, the meaning of the theme Pilgrims of Hope, and begin contemplating where they see signs of hope within their own communities.

Pilgrimage

For the pilgrimage experience, students will be taken on a journey through our three Project Compassion case studies: Toefuata'iga (Samoa), Lam (Vietnam) and Irene (DRC). The first component will take them on a virtual pilgrimage, where they will engage in 4 different stages for each case study. They include:

Encounter: where they engage in comprehension questions to explore the case study

Barriers: where they will explore the key issues connected to the case study (climate change, disability inclusion and poverty)

Mercy: where they will reflect upon the Church's teaching to explore the importance of displaying compassion to others

Hope: where they will reflect on the message of hope in relation to the case study and their personal learnings

For the second component they are invited to engage in Acts of Solidarity for each Project Compassion case study. This involves actively engaging in the key elements of Lent: Fasting, Almsgiving and Prayer.

Post Pilgrimage

To conclude their full pilgrimage experience, you will lead the class in the 'Pray as One' prayer experience where students are invited to reflect upon their personal pilgrimage experience.

Students are invited to record their reflections in their Pilgrim Journal.

Project Compassion and the Australian curriculum

Linking the themes of Project Compassion with the curriculum is an opportunity for students to engage more deeply with justice and the work of Caritas Australia. The stories and learning tasks featured can relate broadly to the following Australian Curriculum areas.

Source: Australian Curriculum V9

Religious Education

There are many Religious Education Curricula around the country, however it is not surprising that there are many common themes. We have drawn on these common themes:

- Church and community
- Prayer
- Living the mission of Jesus
- Morality and justice
- Catholic Social Teachings: Human Dignity, Preferential Option for the Poor, Solidarity, Subsidiarity and Participation, Care for our Common Home and the Common Good.

Cross-curriculum priorities

Sustainability

World views that recognise the dependence of living things on healthy ecosystems, and value diversity and social justice, are essential for achieving sustainability. Look for Toefuata'iga's Story (Samoa).

General capabilities key ideas

Intercultural Understanding

Intercultural understanding stimulates students' interest in the lives of others. It cultivates values and dispositions such as curiosity, care, empathy, reciprocity, respect and responsibility, open-mindedness and critical awareness, and supports new and positive intercultural behaviours.

Personal and Social Capability

Students gain an understanding of the role of advocacy in contemporary society and build their capacity to critique societal constructs and forms of discrimination, such as racism and sexism. In developing and acting with personal and social capability, students are encouraged to appreciate diverse perspectives, contribute to civil society and understand relationships. Look for Lam's Story (Vietnam).

Ethical Understanding

In developing and acting with ethical understanding, students examine values (see Catholic Social Teaching Guide on page 12), explore rights and responsibilities and consider other points of view.

Critical and Creative Thinking

In presenting students with subjective aspects of a problem that is sensitive to a particular context, students are creating possibilities by adapting and connection ideas to formulate responses. The questions that have been developed facilitate increasing student understanding of general ideas and concepts that enable them to inform themselves and be critical thinkers.

Curriculum Links

English

The English curriculum aims to provide students the opportunity to learn to analyse, understand, communicate and build relationships with others and the world. Students are provided the opportunity to explore ideas and perspectives about human experiences and cultural significance, interpersonal relationships and ethical and global issues within real-world setting. This enables students develop an understanding of themselves and their place in the world.

Through studying English, students will develop into confident communicators, imaginative and critical thinkers, and informed citizens who will be able to use these skills to become ethical, informed, perceptive, innovative and active members of society.

Geography

In a world of increasing global integration and international mobility, it is critical to sustainability and human wellbeing that young Australians develop a holistic understanding of the world. This requires deep knowledge and understanding of why the world is the way it is and the interconnections between people, places and environments over time.

Geography inspires curiosity and wonder about the diversity of the world's people, places and environments. Geography features a structured way of exploring, analysing and understanding the characteristics of the places that make up our world. This enables students to question why the world is the way it is and reflect on their relationships with and responsibilities for the world.

Through the study of Geography, students become informed and responsible members of their local and global communities. They learn to act ethically to sustain and improve natural and social environments and engage in the global community.

Civics and Citizenship

While the curriculum strongly focuses on the Australian context, students also reflect on Australia's position and international obligations, and the role of citizens today, both within Australia and in an interconnected world. Through the study of Civics and Citizenship, students develop inquiry skills, values and dispositions that enable them to be active and informed citizens who question, understand and contribute to the world they live in. The Civics and Citizenship curriculum aims to reinforce students' appreciation and understanding of what it means to be a citizen. It fosters responsible participation in Australia's democracy and explores ways in which students can actively shape their lives, value belonging to a diverse and dynamic society, and positively contribute locally, nationally, regionally and globally.

Economics and Business

Economics and Business develops the knowledge, understanding and skills that will equip students to shape their social and economic futures. It also aids in the development of prosperous, sustainable and equitable Australian and global economies. Through studying economics and business, students learn to make informed decisions and to appreciate the effects of these decisions on individuals, businesses, and environmental and social systems.

Thinking about and responding to contemporary economic and business issues requires an understanding of resource allocation and economic decision-making, the operation of the business environment, the ways entrepreneurs create solutions, the nature and future of work, and the factors influencing decision-making in consumer and financial contexts.

Economics and Business develops a range of skills that foster enterprising individuals who can effectively embrace change; seek innovation; work with others; show initiative, flexibility and leadership; plan, organise and manage risk; and use resources efficiently.

Lent Links

Do you observe Lent regularly? Why/Why not?

What do you know about Lent?

What significance does it have for you?

Throughout Lent, we commit to strengthening our faith through the three pillars: prayer, fasting and almsgiving.

Pope Francis explains, “Lent is also a time of communitarian decisions, of decisions, small and large, that are countercurrent. Decisions capable of altering the daily lives of individuals and entire neighbourhoods, such as the ways we acquire goods, care for creation, and strive to include those who go unseen or are looked down upon.”

\(Pope Francis's Lenten Message 2024\)

During Lent, we take time to reflect and be strengthened by the Holy Spirit so that we are not indifferent to each other or global poverty. Through Project Compassion, we can stand in solidarity with our neighbours around the world. We can celebrate Caritas Australia's partnerships with other agencies around the world, which support those most vulnerable to extreme poverty and injustice. Your donations help to strengthen their lives, their families and their communities.

Over the next six weeks of Lent, through Project Compassion, we will explore stories of hope in the Samoa, Vietnam and the Democratic Republic of the Congo. Let's focus on how we can enrich our connectedness as a global community.

PRAYER

Traditionally, Christians pray for themselves and others during this time of Lent. Project Compassion encourages you to pray for the people and communities you encounter through the Project Compassion stories.

FASTING

Fasting is one of the most ancient practices linked to Lent. It can be an aid to prayer, as the pangs of hunger remind us of our hunger for God. Fasting can be linked to our concern for those who are forced to fast by their poverty, those who suffer from the injustices of our economic and political structures, and those who are in need for any reason. Traditionally, abstaining from meat was one way of remembering people who did not have enough to meet their daily needs. Some people also choose other ways to 'fast' such as from social media.

ALMSGIVING

Almsgiving is a sign of our care for others and an expression of our gratitude for all that God has given us. Caring for others is part of many faiths. Almsgiving by Christians is illustrated in the Bible, in Acts 4:33–37. During Project Compassion, reflect on ways you can care for others out of what you have.

How can you come together with your local community to Unite Against Poverty this Lent?

Catholic Social Teaching (CST) Guide

Catholic Social Teaching (CST) principles cover all spheres of life – the economic, political, ecological, personal and spiritual. The principles are inspired by scripture and the writings of the Pope and other Catholic leaders about social issues.

Caritas Australia's work is shaped by the tradition of Catholic Social Teaching.

HUMAN DIGNITY

We believe every human being is created in the image and likeness of God and therefore has inherent dignity that should always be safeguarded.

SUBSIDIARITY AND PARTICIPATION

We believe all people have the right to participate in decisions that affect their lives. Subsidiarity requires that decisions are made by people closest and most affected by the issues and concerns of the community.

SOLIDARITY

We believe we are part of one human family and have a responsibility to help each person achieve their full potential.

THE COMMON GOOD

We believe the good of each human person is intimately related to the good of the whole community. We are all responsible for each other.

PREFERENTIAL OPTION FOR THE POOR

We believe in prioritising the women, men and children most vulnerable to extreme poverty and injustice.

CARE FOR OUR COMMON HOME

We believe that care for our common home is vital for the common good of all people. We believe a true ecological approach is a social approach. We are to be protectors of creation and of one another.

Jubilee Year

After watching the CAFOD Jubilee for Schools Animation video, answer the following questions.
What is meant by the phrase 'the year of the Lord's favour' (Luke 4:19)?

According to Luke's Gospel, when Jesus recites from the prophet Isaiah, what was Jesus's mission?

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me
to bring good news to the poor.
He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives and recovery of sight to the blind, to let the oppressed go free,
to proclaim the year of the Lord's favour."
Luke 4:18-19

What is the significance of celebrating a Jubilee year in today's context?

Where do you see hope in the world today?

Pope Francis' Challenge

Pope Francis challenges us to stop and look for the good in the world everyday. It can be as simple as an act of kindness, unexpected generosity, a gesture of help, or a kind word. With time 'our hearts will light up with hope' and we will become beacons of hope for those who surround us.

Pope Francis Challenge

Share this information with students

Pope Francis describes a Christian pilgrimage as a journey where we set out to discover ourselves and the love of God. 'We are pilgrims because we have been called: called to love God and to love one another.' (World Day of Prayer for Vocations, 2024). Therefore, to be pilgrims of hope, we are called to be courageous and work towards a world filled with justice, peace and love.

Everyday we are surrounded by pain and suffering, questioning where is the good in the world. Pope Francis challenges us to stop and look for the good in the world everyday. It can be as simple as an act of kindness, unexpected generosity, a gesture of help, or a kind word. With time 'our hearts will light up with hope' (Pope Francis, Hope is a gift and duty for every Christian) and we will become beacons of hope for those who surround us.

Invite students to record signs of hope they have witnessed within the last couple of days in their Pilgrim Journal. You may like to create a classroom display with the heading 'Pilgrims of hope'.

Encourage students to take on Pope Francis's challenge, to stop and reflect daily on where they see signs of hope in their own lives, this Lent.

‘Christian pilgrimage: we set out on a journey to discover the love of God and at the same time to discover ourselves, thanks to an interior journey nourished by our relationships with others. We are pilgrims because we have been called: called to love God and to love one another.’

Toefuata'iga (Samoa)

Toefuata'iga, (Toy-foo-ah-tah-ing-ah) a 13-year-old primary school student in Samoa, faced severe challenges and disruptions to her learning due to water scarcity. After Caritas Australia's partner Caritas Samoa installed a 10,000 litre water tank at her school, Toefuata'iga and her classmates saw improved health, consistent attendance, and more opportunities to prioritise education.

Lam (Vietnam)

Lam, a young man from rural Vietnam with a passion for graphic design, faced limited career prospects due to his disability. With support from the I-SHINE program, he pursued IT training and now runs a successful freelance graphic design business.

Irene (Democratic Republic of the Congo)

Irene is a 25-year-old single mother of two boys living in the Democratic Republic of the Congo who, despite experiencing extreme poverty, has become a skilled seamstress. With her income, she can now support her children's education.

Individual Pilgrim Experience

Note: At the beginning of the pilgrim experience, create an Act in Solidarity prayer wall within the classroom or school. Invite students to display the prayers they have written as part of the Act in Solidarity part of pilgrimage.

Follow these steps to continue the pilgrim experience:

- Invite students to open the Virtual Pilgrimage via page 3 of the Pilgrim Journal
- Direct students to the case study you are looking at for this lesson: Toefuata'iga (Samoa), Lam (Vietnam) or Irene (DRC).
- Students participate in the virtual pilgrimage for the allocated case study and record reflections in their Pilgrim Journal.
- Students continue to the Act in Solidarity component in their journal, once they have completed the virtual pilgrimage. Repeat the above steps until all 3 case studies have been completed.
- Continue to the 'Pray as One' prayer experience to conclude the pilgrimage experience.

COMPASSION

Toefuata'iga's Story

Samoa

Toefuata'iga (Toy-foo-ah-tah-ing-ah) is 13 years old and attends a school in the Upolu region of Samoa that didn't have a reliable source of clean water. Despite being surrounded by water, many Samoans struggle with consistent access to clean drinking water, often relying on rainwater or neighbours with a piped water connection.

Climate change exacerbates this issue, leading to longer, drier periods and frequent shutdowns of the Samoan Water Authority pipeline due to natural disasters and maintenance. The pipeline's unpredictability and potential contamination after heavy rains further complicates access to safe water.

"The climate is changing dramatically in Samoa. When it rains, it goes nonstop, like four days, five days of rain heavily, and then it stops. Then, there is no rain for nearly three, going up to four weeks," explained Principal Ada. These extreme weather patterns lead to water shortages.

The students' education was frequently interrupted by school closures, especially during the dry months of Term 3 and Term 4. Principal Ada explained that the school closed about five to six times per term due to water shortages. This situation also led to health issues among students. Without clean water, many students suffered from dehydration or became unwell with waterborne diseases like typhoid.

“Parents would have to ring us up to tell us that their kids are sick or send letters excusing them for not being at school. It was normally things like headaches caused by heat or dehydration, or stomach aches... Like if it’s typhoid or whatever, disease that’s caused from lack of water,” said Ada. The high absence rate slowed down the curriculum, with teachers needing to revisit missed lessons, especially for students who were absent for extended periods.

At times, when the school ran out of clean water teachers had to fetch water themselves in buckets from neighbouring homes with access to piped water. This took time away from teaching and planning lessons.

With little or no water, students were sent home early, missing out on learning and playing with friends. “School would finish early because when there wasn’t any water, we wouldn’t have classes,” Toefuata’iga shared. “I felt sad when there was no school. There’s not enough time to read a book or play games with my friends.”

Access to clean drinking water is a problem for many children around the world. 288 million children attend schools with no drinking water at all. In Oceania, nearly half of all schools don’t have access to basic drinking water services.¹

Principal Ada recognised the urgent need for a water tank to provide safe drinking water, given the unreliability of the piped water network. With support from Caritas Australia’s local partner, Caritas Samoa, a 10,000 L water tank was installed at Toefuata’iga’s school as part of a Water, Sanitation and Hygiene (WASH) initiative to Strengthen Education and Health (WISEH) program. The tank fills up on water via a pipeline, at times when access to clean water is possible via the Samoan Water Authority. This resources the school with days of water supply for the school community.

“Since we’ve had the water tank, there’s been a big help for us because when our taps aren’t working, there’s a water tank we can use for the whole day,” Toefuata’iga shared.

The water tank provides a reliable water supply, allowing students to stay in school all day, continue their lessons, and play with friends. Attendance rates have increased, and enrolment is steadily growing.

Access to clean water has a ripple effect, enabling children to access their right to education and break the cycle of poverty. Caritas Australia and Caritas Samoa continue to support vulnerable communities through programs like WISEH, ensuring access to clean water, sanitation, and hygiene. Together we can Unite Against Poverty and help students like Toefuata’iga pursue their education and build a brighter future.

Lam's Story

Vietnam

Lam was born and raised in rural Vietnam with his farming parents and three siblings. As a 27-year-old man of short stature, he experienced significant physical and social barriers due to his disability. Many aspects of his wellbeing became impacted due to his mobility issues, and he became increasingly isolated from society.

After finishing high school, he saw his classmates go off to university to pursue careers as doctors, teachers, and other professions. However, Lam didn't have the same opportunities because of his disability. With no job prospects, he stayed at home helping his parents with household chores like cooking, harvesting vegetables and feeding chickens. Even though he loved his family, Lam felt more and more disconnected from his friends and from society. His dream of becoming a graphic designer seemed impossible.

"I'm really self-conscious about my height. It feels like getting around and doing a lot of basic tasks are a major undertaking for me," Lam said.

Lam's life began to change when he found out about the I-SHINE program run by Caritas Australia's local partner, Catholic Relief Services (CRS). The program helps young people with disabilities in Vietnam access education and training to improve their lives. Through the program, Lam was given the chance to study IT in a six-month training course in Da Nang, a city about 50 km away from his hometown.

Prior to support from the I-SHINE program, Lam felt increasingly isolated. Here, Lam reflects in his family home in Quang Nam, Vietnam. Photo: Caritas Australia.

At first, the idea of leaving his village and travelling to a big city felt scary to Lam, especially with his mobility challenges. But despite his fears, he was determined to pursue his dream. “When I got the chance to be part of this program, I was over the moon,” Lam said. “Ever since I was a little kid, I’ve loved drawing and had this intense passion for computers...I always dreamed of becoming a digital artist.”

During the six months of training, Lam worked hard and made new friends who shared similar experiences. For the first time in years, he felt connected to others again. He also joined a local disability club, where he shared his story and bonded with people facing similar challenges.

With the skills he learned, Lam was able to start his own freelance graphic design business from home. Today, he is a successful graphic designer, working with clients both in Vietnam and overseas. He earns a steady income and no longer depends on his parents as much. “Right now, I’m most proud of being less dependent on my parents. They can finally relax knowing I’ve found a fulfilling career that I’m truly passionate about,” Lam said.

Lam’s story is an inspiration to other young people with disabilities in Vietnam. There are around 6 million people¹ living with disabilities in the country, many of whom, like Lam, live in rural areas with limited access to education and job opportunities. Lam hopes that more programs like I-SHINE will continue to grow and help others achieve their dreams.

“It’s a struggle to feel like we fit into society, and our limited mobility makes it hard to access jobs or education... that’s why we desperately need the help of these amazing charitable organisations,” Lam said. “I’m really hoping this initiative keeps growing and spreading its impact, uplifting even more people in similar situations, both here at home and around the globe.”

When we Unite Against Poverty this Lent, we can help people living with a disability access opportunities to shine.

Irene's Story

Democratic Republic of the Congo

Irene is a young single mother living in Kongolo, a rural area in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC). She takes care of her two children, aged 3 and 7, while also supporting her mother and extended family. Her life has been full of challenges, especially since she became a mother at a young age.

The DRC is one of the poorest countries in the world, with millions of people affected by conflict and political instability. About 70% of the population live in poverty, on less than $3.30 AUD¹ a day, making it incredibly hard for families to make ends meet.

Irene's childhood was marked by hardships – after her father died in a war, Irene along with her mother and siblings were displaced. Her mother worked very hard to provide for her family.

"We lived a very difficult life. Every morning, [my mother] would go to the fields to grow yams. That's all we ate, and sometimes she worked for others in exchange for cassava, which she used to make fufu with sombé, sometimes without oil, and borrowed salt from neighbours. That's how we got by."

Irene's life took another difficult turn, when as a teenager, she became pregnant for the first time. Her husband fled soon after she had her first child. Overwhelmed by trying to support herself and child with limited education and therefore job opportunities, Irene returned to her mother's household.

A while later, her husband returned, and she began living with him briefly before he later fled again after learning she was pregnant a second time.

Despite these challenges, Irene's life improved when she joined the Youth Capacity Strengthening Program (YCSP), run by Caritas Australia's partner, Caritas Kongolo. This program aims to empower young individuals, especially young mothers, to become self-sufficient and contribute to their communities.

Irene took a sewing class through the program, where she learnt how to make clothes to sell. She also participated in agricultural training and received emotional support to help her heal from her past trauma.

After completing the six-month sewing course, Irene was given a sewing machine to continue her work. With her newfound skills, she was able to start earning money to provide for her family, including sending her son, nieces and nephews to school. Irene proudly said, "I make sure to provide for all their needs. There are 15 of us at home, and I take care of everyone."

On top of this, Irene's new farming skills has helped her grow food for her family to eat. She explains, "Before, I didn't know how to farm, but with this training, I learnt. We grew peanuts and corn and harvested them. After the harvest, they gave us chickens to start poultry farming, then returned with more work tools. We have a group field, but I also have my own field that produces the food we eat today at home."

The YCSP has made a huge difference in Irene's life and Irene is generously sharing her new skills with others. She loves teaching other women how to sew. "Our lives are so different now. Before, women depended on men's income, but now, with our sewing skills, we can take care of ourselves... When I teach others to sew, I feel comfortable and useful to my community," Irene shared.

Life has been tough for Irene, but she worked hard, learnt new skills, and became really good at sewing. Irene has been able to break out of a cycle of poverty. She can now send her son to school and support her extended family too.

Together, we can Unite Against Poverty this Lent by donating to Project Compassion, offering pathways out of poverty for people in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and beyond.

"I want to say a big thank you to Caritas Australia and Caritas Kongolo. Thank you so much for uplifting me. I never thought I, Irene, could become someone. I never knew this life was possible," Irene said.

Post Pilgrim Experience

'Let us travel as pilgrims of hope towards the Holy Year, for by discovering our own vocation and its place amid the different gifts bestowed by the Spirit, we can become for our world messengers and witnesses of Jesus' dream of a single human family, united in God's love and in the bond of charity, cooperation and fraternity.'

Pope Francis, Message on 61st World Day of Prayer for Vocations

Pray As One

The Pray as One prayer experience has been designed to provide students an opportunity to reflect over their pilgrimage experience.

As a class either visit the school chapel or set-up a prayer space within the classroom. A prayer space can include:

- Candle
- Cross/Crucifix
- Bible
- Images of the case studies
- Faith image or icon

Below are instructions to lead the prayer experience.

1. Invite students into the prayer by beginning with the sign of the cross.
2. Explain to students that we are now concluding our pilgrimage experience. Through this time, they have united against poverty; engaging with the Project Compassion stories, Church teachings, the Pilgrims of Hope theme for the Year of Jubilee and acted in solidarity.
3. Silent Reflection Time: Invite students to take a moment to reflect over their pilgrimage experience. Students are welcome to journal in their Pilgrim Journal or sit quietly. Play some quiet reflective music for about 5min. Time may vary depending on class dynamic.
4. Towards the end of their silent reflection time, invite students to write a prayer that reflects the key message they have taken away from the experience. Have these added to your Act in Solidarity prayer wall.
5. Recite the Project Compassion Prayer as a class.
6. Conclude with the sign of the cross.

Silent Reflection Time
During this time, reflect over your full pilgrimage experience. Here are some questions to guide your reflection time:

- What information did you find challenging/inspiring?
- What does Unite Against Poverty mean to you?
- How can you Unite Against Poverty?
- What do you understand about 'Pilgrims of Hope'?
- How can you be a 'pilgrim of hope' this year and into the future?
- Imagine a world where everyone came together to end poverty. How would the world look?

Write a prayer that reflects the key message you have taken away from the experience
